

Ibiza Spotlight

This page can be found online here:

http://www.ibiza-spotlight.com/news/2005/one\_foot\_291105\_i.htm |  Print this page

One Foot in the Grave

And other stories that make us say, 'I don't believe it.'

A German resident of the island has been threatened with a year in jail by the Chiropodists College of the Balearics unless he toes the line. Apparently, his German qualification is in 'care of feet' and not 'chiroprody' as required in Spain. How corny!

Anti-motorway protesters were fined €900 for illegally locating their 'No Volem Autopista' banners in unauthorised positions. The banners were placed on a paper recycling container, a supermarket façade, and on the front of San Antonio's medical centre. The protesters' ire has been raised by the fact that San Antonio council only put a fine of €200 on megabucks disco Amnesia when it opened without permission this summer.

Published on 29th November, 2005

Sign up today to receive our FREE Ibiza Newsletter.

All the local news, views and entertainment delivered straight to your inbox every month!

Enter your email into the box below and click 'Sign up'

Format:  HTML  Text  Not sure

Privacy policy

◀ Back to News Index for November, 2005

Back to Ibiza Spotlight

---

This page is part of Ibiza Spotlight's Holiday Guide.

Copyright © 1999 - 2006 Ibiza Spotlight S.L. All rights reserved..